How the Laziest
ONLINE MARKETERS
Make Money Online Every day.

Most online marketers or Internet marketers are LAZY! After all, this is why they chose online marketing as their vehicle to earn a full-time income. They thought by simply clicking a few buttons in order to make a 4, 5 or 6 figure income sounded great. Well, they soon found out, there is more work to it than that. All successful online marketers have learned the SECRET you're about to learn in a second.

This is ONE secret they do not tell – and they keep it close to their vest.

I'm Spilling the Beans . . . it's time you knew the truth.

Website design, auto responders, graphics, SEO and time-sucking marketing routines are NOT easy and nobody will learn it all overnight. Granted, some people may be able to create a website, but they know nothing about auto responders or promoting products and services on the Internet. Or, they may know all about promotion but know very little about all the techie stuff. You can probably relate, right?

Trying to learn all of this stuff, quickly, is an overwhelming feat. Just thinking about all of this stuff will give the average person a headache and crazy nightmares.

Did You Know that Many Online Marketing Coaches LIE To Their Students?

Not all, but many online marketing coaches LIE to their students. They imply they know how to do all of this stuff, but in reality they may NOT know how to do most of it. Oh sure, they may know how it all works and know how to quickly give you the outline of the steps, but they seldom admit they actually perform all of these functions and methods themselves. The student is in for a big surprise.

Creating a landing page or squeeze page to build an email list is essential and most any online marketing person will preach this. However, building the squeeze page and using the software may not be their expertise at all.

Article writing or blogs is another thing that most online marketers just hate doing. It is highly time-consuming and most marketers are NOT writers. However, their websites and product review sites are packed with well-written articles. How is this possible? Hold on . . . I'll tell you how.

Spreading the Word About Your Products and Services is an Essential Ingredient in the Process.

Naturally, creating a buzz and getting a massive amount of traffic to your website is absolutely essential if you expect to earn a living. After all, this is where your future customers must go in order to click the link and purchase your products or services.

There are over 200 methods that have been used over the years in order to pull potential online customers to a website. Every marketer and marketing genius thinks about this stuff until their nose bleeds. Website traffic is the life blood of any online business.

Some beginners in online marketing spend hundreds of hours with their projects. It robs them of their life and time from their family and friends. And most have very little to show for their efforts. Most beginners receive a small trickle of traffic with very little income. Most beginner Internet marketers end up quitting because there is not enough hours in a day and they earn almost zero.

Most beginner online marketers NEVER learn the secret. However, I'm going to spill the beans and let you in on the greatest secret in Online Marketing.

We All Know, the Corporation or Person Who Owns the Construction Company Did Not Build that Tall Skyscraper Totally by Himself.

- Yes, he is the owner of the company.
- Yes, he used his vision and his business sense to build a wonderful building.
- Yes, he knew exactly how and where to get the necessary assistance to build this terrific building.
- Yes, he gets all the credit!
- Yes, he receives a healthy reward. Behind the scenes, it took literally hundreds of experts to build that tall skyscraper.
- It took architects, structural engineers, safety engineers, plumbers, electrical contractors, steel workers and many others.

Guess what? Most of the hard-working men are almost invisible. They work daily like little ants. Most people do not know their names or their daily accomplishments. However, the person who owns the construction company gets all the glory and reaps all the big rewards. And he should! It was his vision and his ability to get it done is what matters.

It's the same way with Online Marketing, there are specialists who can do all the work for you and it's very inexpensive. Successful Internet Marketers seldom build a single website or do any of the time-sucking marketing that should be done almost weekly. Online marketing is not like it used to be. The tech labor is extremely cheap today, if you know where to look.

Successful Internet Marketers enjoy the Internet lifestyle. They reap the rewards as the owner of their online business and live an independent lifestyle. Most are semi-retired once the business model is created and the formula is used.

The websites and marketing become a well oiled machine and the rest of the projects become a "Rinse and Repeat" situation. You can even find a project manager that can over-see your entire business.

Successful online marketers, seldom get their hands dirty and they seldom do any heavy lifting when it comes to their business.

How Does an Online Marketing Beginner Get Other Experts to do the Heavy Lifting for CHEAP?

Here's the big secret. There are many websites available online where professionals bid on certain jobs. Many online marketers use these job sites, however, they can cost you more money.

However, for now, I would suggest you stay away from those sites. Plus you really do not need them and this is why. Let me explain.

Right now, you'll learn another big secret. You can get nearly everything you need for CHEAP. Website design, Wordpress, programming, graphics, auto responders, article writing, SEO and gobs of promotion and marketing. Eventually, you'll have a system down.

Here's part of the formula. Let's say you have three or four people working different projects, then the projects will get done faster. Starting off, each project can finance the next – but the cost is very low. The faster more projects are completed, then the more money you can make.
